

Moon 5 ~ Moon of Selfhood

Dog in the Night finds Warrior Selfhood

during our Year of Skywalker Seeding Integration

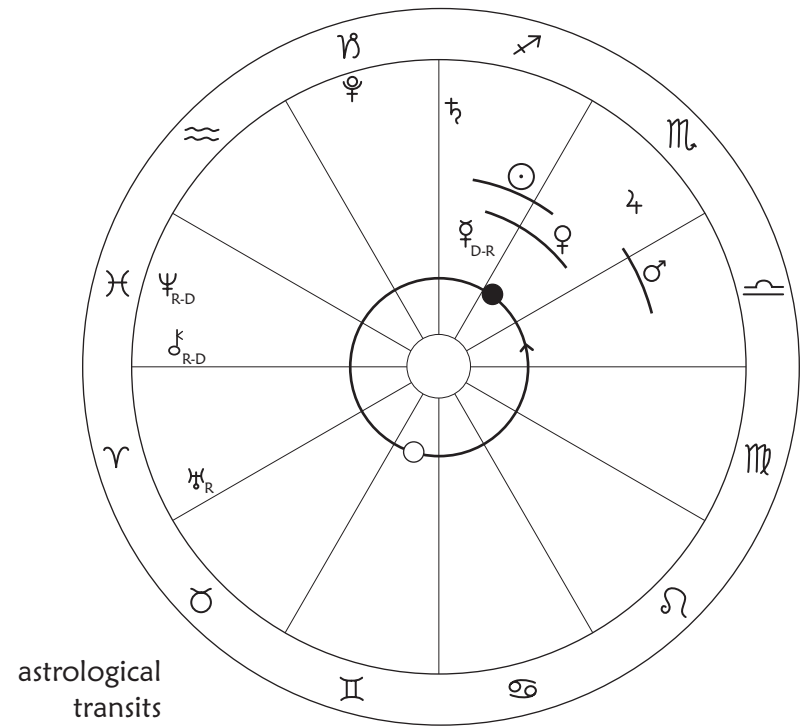

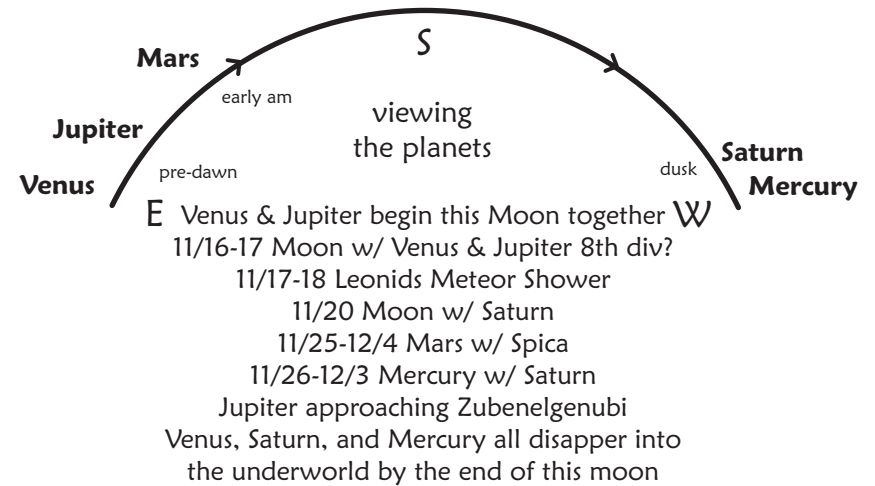

From atop a mountain, we become Love Warrior Dogs attuning, watching the waning Moon approach Jupiter & Venus before the dawn, becoming a portal of selfhood, seeding the depths of our beings through heartfulness, flaming arrows of exuberance sparking through our eyes.

Dreaming deep through the lengthening Nights, we come home to the rich vastness of our storied selves, to the place that holds us close in the time of turning inward. Mercury & Saturn linger together in the west just after sunset, telling the old stories as we gather around the fire.

Jupiter has moved into Scorpio, so new transits emerge as our teachers; fittingly, in the Night. Jupiter in Scorpio trine Neptune in Pisces brings an intense, yet harmonious, watery flow of deeply felt expansion into mystical union with the oceanic universe. This, ever so slowly, brings the stilling of Mercury stationing Retrograde in Sagittarius on an 11 Skywalker day, the seeker turning us back to see what can be learned from a different angle of approach to where we've been.

Newly storied, our Warrior self emerges from the depths of Night, able to move slowly and allow the ripening of selfhood, capable of standing strong, in full presence, to meet what arises fearlessly, even as Jupiter approaches Zubenelgenubi, the claw of the Scorpion, and Mercury, Venus, and Saturn all slip from the sky into the underworld.
