

Moon 6 ~ Moon of Balancing

Sun and Skywalker find Worldbridger Balancing during our Year of Earth's Moon Freedom

Our new self in form meets the world beyond the self, still simply shining like the Sun, radiating warmth and generosity to all within our domains. Amidst a celebratory Geminids meteor shower, Moon and Mars walk together, greeting the long dark of night.

Having well begun our new form, we now refine it through dimensionally journeying as Skywalkers, freely exploring the cosmic worlds way beyond our own. The Winter Solstice longest night is warmed by a Full Moon, and the new fire and lengthening days are ushered in by the Azure Dragon of the Scorpion rising before dawn with Morning Star Venus in the grasp of the claw, Mercury sitting on its shoulder, and Jupiter riding the pulsing red heart. Mars gooses Chiron on its way to Aries, instilling the will to spring to life again.

The Gregorian New year finds us on the threshold between worlds, as well as years, Worldbridgers living the liminal, dying to what's been as we surrender in humility and gain a measure of maturity. Here again, we're reminded that our new form is not so much about having a form. Waning Moon visits Venus for the 2nd divestment, a laying down of the scepter and trusting the third eye and the pineal's cyclic modulating song. Moon moves down the body of the Azure Dragon/Scorpion, riding the heart with Jupiter on its way to a partial Solar Eclipse in Capricorn; serious authority.
